

Lizard People are everywhere. They are in our schools, our government, and our corporate cafeterias. You should be alert at all times and observe lizard people.

Ways to identify:

- 1) Unchanging apparent age. For example, Sean Connery is almost certainly a lizard person. If you observe his apparent age in Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade, and him now in 2009 he looks the same! We should be wary of a James Bond Lizard Person – All of those gadgets were alien technology all along.
- 2) Unusually large, pronounced jaw. Lizard people need a large, powerful jaw to crush bones and skulls when consuming their unsuspecting prey.
- 3) Unusual cunning and powerful demeanor. Lizard people lack natural weapons like claws, large teeth, or venom. Instead, they rely on cunning and guile to convince their prey to simply surrender.
- 4) Vicious, ruthless attitude. Lizard people establish goals and needs and move in on them as a natural predator. Be wary, resist their movements.
- 5) Callous disregard for humanity. Lizard people simply don't care about the long-term survival of humanity or ethics. They only care for satiating their incredible hunger for human flesh!
